UNIVERSAL CHILDREN'S DAY 2015

UCD AND YELLOWTIDE

"Universal Children's Day (UCD)" is celebrated every year on November 20th to promote international togetherness and awareness about children worldwide.

JAAGO Foundation started a revolutionary movement by celebrating "Universal Children's Day" for the underprivileged children from 2009, delivering the message of child rights and the importance of quality education amongst the mass.

For the 7th time in a row we will be uniting for children's happiness across 8 divisions and 32 districts with the belief "Quality Education 4 All". We believe in building a society where every child will have access to quality education. Understanding the need for quality education, we are emphasizing and again raising awareness on Quality Education 4 All.

YOU CAN TOO

You can be a part of this from anywhere, anytime. It's never too late to initiate action to benefit the underprivileged children around us.

In 2007, we started with just a white-board, a marker, and a carpet with 17 little children in a slum of Rayerbazar. Now, JAAGO Foundation is a nonprofit organization providing free of cost international standard quality education to the underprivileged children and empowering youth.

Currently, we have 13 schools all over Bangladesh where 2,200 students are studying in english version of NCTB curriculum .

JAAGO Foundation has been the pioneer in providing the youth a voice and a platform through its youth wing "Volunteer for Bangladesh" (VBD). VBD is spread over half of Bangladesh with 20,000 compassionate volunteers who are helping out to make a difference and rebuild the nation.
